

"There is nothing greater for me as a performer than having talented musicians join me on stage. I have always found that it makes me as a performer push harder to be the very best that I can be. The 'Texas Country Music Hall of Fame Band' pushes me harder than any group of players and singers that I have ever had the pleasure of working with. They really and truly are an amazing group of good friends who just happen to be the best at making music" T.G. Sheppard
